You have less than seven months to take advantage of "Tax Evemption" for 10 years, and build a home or a bungalow. Under the Tax Exemption Law you have only to commence building before April 1, 1922. Construction work need not be completed until two years later—by April, 1924.

To My 160,000 Clients

When I think of the vast number of people in search of homes I feel that the following announcement is one of the most important I have ever made to my clients and the public

Everybody Knows GARDEN CITY ESTATES

the most highly developed portion of the great estate formerly owned by A. T. Stewart, and a part of the incorporated village of Garden City. More than 200 residences have been erected at GARDEN CITY ESTATES. Sewers, water, gas, electricity, sidewalks and curbs have been installed in the fully improved

A number of years have elapsed since the owners of GARDEN CITY ESTATES began to lavish millions of dollars to make this one of the finest residential colonies in America.

Without regard to existing conditions-wars and industrial depressions—they carried on the great work until today GARDEN CITY ESTATES has few, if any, equals as a location for a home.

But—the load was a tremendously heavy one to carry. Wherefor the owners early this year ordered me to sell the unsold lots in GARDEN CITY ESTATES for whatever price they might bring.

I followed out the owners' instructions and in June and July held auction sales on the property and at the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, at which times I sold about 1,200 lots at prices that represented the biggest bargains that home buyers have secured in many a day.

But-it was a physical impossibility to sell all the lots at GARDEN CITY ESTATES at that time.

WHEREFOR, the owners, regardless of the fact that they sacrificed these lots and gave the public some of the greatest bargains of the age, have now ordered me to carry out their promise to the public that every lot in GARDEN CITY ESTATES shall be sold for whatever it may bring. I now

Built Up to the Very Door of the DICKEY ESTATE

The intrinsic value of this property lies in its wonderfully strategic location-less than three blocks from the Hunts Point Square Subway Station and "Hub" of rapid transit; where all the important subway station streets converge; directly on the route of the 163rd St. and Hunts Point Ave. crosstown trolley line.

The Dickey Estate, with its fine old homestead, built in 1820, at last is to be sold. It will no longer be a barrier to the growth of the great Hunts Point residential and business section of the Bronx. After 62 years of ownership, the Dickey Estate heirs can no longer withstand the pressure of building and population and the public demand for this splendidly located property to practically the very door of which this famous section of New York City has been built up.

The first opportunity to buy this property, in single lots and plots-at first hand, direct from the Dickey Estate-is the absolute auction sale NEXT THURSDAY.

83 Years Before the Revolutionary War

by a grant from the Crown, in 1693, Israel Honeywell, ist, came into possession of land on both sides of the Eastchester Road, near the present Pelham Parkway. He was appointed, by Royal Charter, Mayor of the Borough Town of Westchester.

A part of the old Honeywell family homestead, which still stands on the property, was built before the Revolutionary War. It was the scene of raids during the Revolution. Israel Honeywell, 4th, who was a Captain in the Revolutionary Army, died in 1806. He bequeathed the property to his daughter, Jemima Honeywell, who married a "Watson."

The property since has been known as the

and is now a fine location for homes and bungalows to be built under the Tax Exemption Law, with all its advantages for the next 10 years.

Get the picture of this historic old property, with all its human interest, well into your mind. Think of the great strides made since the original grant in 1693. Think of what the great big Borough of The Bronx would have been today without rapid transit, and the division of these great Estates into separate lots that the people of New York could buy "at their own price" at the absolute Public Auction Sales held by me.

The Watson Estate property, with its frontage on both sides of Eastchester Road, adjoins Eastchester Syndicate and the Burke Estate properties sold by me at auction, and spreads over about 20 city blocks, along Mace and Waring Avenues, comprises

and is to be sold by me, by order of the Watson Heirs, et al., in single lots for whatever prices they may bring, on
